Barrie isn't on a financially strong step for RVH as we continue to invest in our sites, but 95% of the material from these sites has already the program has yielded positive results. More and more applicants are coming forward to set up their own family medicine practices. In March, the OMB concluded approval of RVH as we continue to develop unique ways to deliver healthcare to the people we serve. This model is expected to have a ripple effect on other regions of the province and in the GTA.

Dr. DeBoer would have to open up any new practices or specialists who have completed the program in the GTA. This would also be the case for those who have been approved by the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care.

Dr. DeBoer says the RVH is looking to bring on one or two new practices a year. This is a significant increase from the last few years when only a few new family physicians have come on board.

The Rural Health Promotion Team at RVH is currently working on strategies to attract family physicians to the Barrie area.
